

Off-Campus Study Quick Facts

ACM & Cornell College
Partners in higher education since 1958.

WHY ACM?

Cornell College is one of 14 schools that form the Associated Colleges of the Midwest (ACM). ACM programs can offer you several advantages:

- A campus faculty advisor for every ACM program.
- An academic curriculum grounded in the liberal arts and sciences.
- Programs that are small in size, with other students from similar colleges.
- Course credits which should easily transfer to your college.
- Ease in the use of Financial Aid, with no ACM program application fee.
- A long history of students from your college attending ACM programs.

CAMPUS APPLICATION PROCEDURES

1. Make an appointment with the Office of International and Off-Campus Studies to discuss your options.
2. Meet with the Financial Aid Office to discuss how off-campus study would affect your financial aid package.
3. Meet with the Registrar's Office to discuss how credit transfer works for your specific program.
4. Once you've chosen your program, start the process of applying for Cornell approval to study off-campus.

CAMPUS DEADLINES

February 1, 2012 - Application deadline for funding for all pre-approved off-campus study programs for the 2012-2013 academic year.
